GANGPLANKER WINS OFFICE

Mark Stewart became a Gangplank success story this month when he won a grassroots campaign for a Chandler city council seat. Stewart used Gangplank as a businessman for years and decided last year to use it as his campaign's pop-up HQ. He arranged meetings with volunteers in the space, talked strategy with his campaign manager in the conference rooms, and tapped into the collective knowledge of all the talented businesspeople of Gangplank. It was a close race against a worthy opponent but we're happy and proud to see such a passionate Gangplanker win! w00t!

GANGPLANK HOSTS HAMILTON HIGH SCHOOL SHARK TANK

Fifty students from Hamilton High strutted their stuff in front of some of Gangplank's most discerning entrepreneurs. 12 groups pitched products ranging from earbuds and mobile chargers to a wooden amplifier completely designed and manufactured by a student.

Mike Lisi teaches the entrepreneurship course at Hamilton and has turned Gangplank into a bi-annual stop as part of the course final. Students are graded on both sales performance at a school market and the investor pitches graded by Gangplankers.

HIRINGSOLVED FEATURED IN FORBES FOR WOMEN IN TECH STUDY

Gangplank anchor HiringSolved was featured in Forbes for a piece about women in tech in silicon valley. Their study provides a unique view of gender diversity because it builds its data from social profiles rather than from internal HR data or official reports. Among their findings, they see an overall rise from last year in the fraction of women, with Google leading the pack at 33%.

GANGPLANK HOSTS PIRATE POTLUCK FOR THANKSGIVING

Eileen Kane organized and facilitated our annual Pirate Potluck on Nov 23. Pirate Potluck is a Thanksgiving community gathering at Gangplank, Chandler where everyone in the community comes together to feast.

Mashed potato, soup, pie, all that goodness. Community members broke bread with entrepreneurs, business owners, and city council members. The feast was delicious and everybody expressed their thankfulness that a place like Gangplank exists where they can unwind and munch grub at their whim. It was a great way to escape the constant demands on everyone and just be.
